Development of Water Transportation In West Will Be Deferred

It is not the intention of the Dominion Government at the present time to develop the water transportation service in the west, according to information received by the U.F.A. from the Hon. F. B. McCurdy, Federal Minister of Public Works. A case has been mentioned by the farmers' organization that the North Saskatchewan River might be so improved in order to permit of traffic from Edmonton to Lake Winnipeg, but the minister points out that this at the present scale of wages would cost approximately $45,000,000. He mentions, however, that at the proper time, when conditions are more favorable, that the government will give the matter further consideration. In his letter the Hon. Mr. McCurdy states:

"The engineers of the department advise that the report on the survey, which, however, has not yet been published, shows that a navigable waterway for light draft vessels from Edmonton to Lake Winnipeg by dredging, diversion and bank protection works and by the construction of six dams with locks and canals could possibly be provided at a cost for this part of the work on pre-war prices of $21,000,000; at the present prices it would probably exceed the sum of $45,000,000.

"As the matter stands there is no certainty that suitable sites can be found of such aggregate capacity as will permit the resending of the flood waters coming down from the mountains and hold enough in reserve for partial control and distribution during the period of deficiency.

"The scheme, no doubt at the proper time and when conditions are more favorable, will come up for careful consideration. I can assure you that I am quite alive to the importance of developing gradually our waterways and I am fully in sympathy with the object of the resolution passed by the U.F.A."

To Consider Needs Of the Maimed

League of Nations Will Take Care of Disabled Men.

A section of the League of Nations has been established to deal with questions affecting disabled men and women, particularly those disabled during the war, according to a letter received by C. G. McKel, Dominion secretary of the Great War Veterans' Association, from A. Fickler, the official in charge of the new department at Geneva.

The work of the office will be carried on in conjunction with the International Labor Office, and in order to facilitate its operations different organizations working for or in touch with disabled persons all over the world are asked to offer suggestions.

In the letter it is pointed out that the majority of disabled persons are handicapped despite any special vocational training they may have received. Further the problem of the disabled belongs to all times, inasmuch as industrial accidents raise the same questions of compensation, supply of artificial limbs, vocational training, etc.

The International Labor Office is convinced that the problem of the disabled is of permanent and general importance, and, the letter states, "considers it desirable to make known the results obtained in the case of the disabled in war and to work for their application to the victims of industrial accidents and the disabled in general." The office will endeavor therefore to collect all information which will be of use to governments and persons interested to benefit by the experience of others.

The International Labor Office has therefore entered into relations with the associations of the disabled in Great Britain, France, Belgium, Italy, Germany and Austria, and is seeking to interest all other countries.

A Good Country to Live In.

Several families that left this district last fall to make their homes in the United States are finding their way back here, intimating a correspondent writing from Forestburg, a small town in Central Alberta. The feeling is that the States is a fine place to visit but this is a better place to live in. Among those who have returned recently are J. J. Forman, Herman Frederick and family, and J. Hill and family. Four hundred thousand bushels of last season's wheat have been marketed through the elevators here, and it is estimated that there is another hundred thousand bushels yet to be disposed of in the district.

Returns from Wheat are Certain

Grain Growing and Livestock vs. Fruit Growing.

The farmer who is producing the basic needs of humanity, such as grain, livestock and dairy products, can stand up under adverse conditions of all kinds better than the farmer who is producing what mankind can get along without. People can live without oranges, peaches and apricots, but they must have bread and meat. Therefore the man who produces grain and meat for the world's market must in trying times have the advantage over the man who produces oranges or any other article which, however desirable, mankind can live without. If a housewife has a very limited number of dollars to spend she will spend them on flour or bread and not on oranges.

That is the world condition today, and it is this condition that has induced A. E. Putnam, a Californian orange grower, to give up his place in California and return to Central Alberta after an absence of twelve years. Mr. Putnam was a pioneer farmer in Alberta more than twenty-six years ago, having come north with a party of people from Nebraska in 1894 and settled north of Edmonton. At that time this part of the country was covered with prairie and with the crude means of clearing these areas then available progress was slow. But that it was sure is shown by the excellent appearance and the large production of the district now. After sixteen years of pioneer life, Mr. Putnam decided to transfer his activities to the orange district of California, where he has spent the last twelve years. He has no fault to find with California except that under present market conditions he believes that he can do better in Alberta than he can in California.

Grammar in U.S.

The expressions "it is me" and "he don't" are permissible for both school teachers and pupils in Cook County, U.S.A., public schools according to Edward J. Tobin, superintendent and the county schools. Superintendent Tobin says the correct form, "it is I," sounds stilted and even egotistical, and that it does no good to teach children forms of expression "outlawed" by common usage and a sense of good form. He said he was not instructing his teachers to depart from grammatically correct usage, but would not reprimand them if they did.

What It Was.

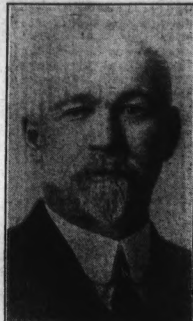

"Did your wife hit you with a piece of brick-a-bac?" asked the judge, not unkindly.

"Devil a brick about it, yer honor," replied Huggan, "just the brick."

Men who always pay cash seldom owe an apology.

"Oral Hygiene" Lay Education Series

"YOUR TEETH"

Loss of the Temporary Teeth.

By Rea Proctor McGee, M.D., D.D.S., Editor, Oral Hygiene.

All temporary teeth that are absceded do not exist. If your child is carrying poison in its mouth and you know it, are you willing to assume the responsibility when the little one suffers from systemic infection, or do you expect to place the blame upon an all-wise "Providence." Every child's mouth should be examined at frequent intervals to find out whether or not there is decay or infection or both.

In many cities and towns, both in this country and in Europe, there are public school clinics where the children's mouths are examined and where reparative work is done. In many states the public health boards send out dental clinic committees to examine the mouths of children in the country and small town districts so that the parents may be informed on the conditions that are present in the mouths of their children. The interest in these clinics is very great. In January, 1920, an examination clinic was being held by the Minnesota Public Health Commission in a far northern district, where the temperature was below zero and the snow was two feet deep. One country school twenty miles away bundled up three bob-sled loads of little tots and sent them to be examined. The people of that kind of a district appreciate their children and are going to raise them up to be strong, healthy citizens. These clinics are for the purpose of informing the parents what should be done and the parents can then take the child to the dentist of their choice and have the child's mouth put in order. When you get a school report on your child's mouth, appreciate it by following instructions.

Plan Mining Developments

Will Begin Survey of 2,000,000 Acres of Mineral-Bearing Lands.

The most important mining developments in British Columbia have been officially forecasted. The C.P.R. will immediately begin a thorough survey of 2,000,000 acres of mineral-bearing lands which it owns or Vancouver Island. The work will be carried on under the direction of the Trail Smelter, which is owned by the C.P.R. In the view of the minister of mines for British Columbia, this examination will be a forerunner of the smelter by the C.P.R. on Vancouver Island. Coal discoveries are expected to be developed throughout and the work is to be done this year.

Young bamboo shoots are eaten by the Chinese and Japanese as we eat asparagus. They have the taste and flavor of Brussels sprouts.

Results of Experiments In Weed Control And Soil Drifting

Two experienced men who accompanied the interprovincial weed train on its recent tour of the prairies gave valuable hints on fighting weeds. One of these was Mr. Timline, superintendent of the Scott experimental station, the other was Prof. Hansen, of the College of Agriculture at Saskatoon.

Freedom from weeds was the rule in the early years of settlement said Mr. Timline, while at the present time the farmers are paying for the handling of many train loads of weed seeds each year. In connection with weed control, there are other crops than wheat and oats, which will help in control. It would seem that poor summerfallowing, stubbling in and using weedy seed, are the three chief causes of spreading weeds. In many districts the summerfallowing is not being properly done. A shallow seed bed is all that is necessary. June has been found on the Scott Experimental Farm to be the best month for ploughing, and the same applies to the treatment of stubble. Ploughing stubble in the fall decreases the yield. On summerfallow the thing is to get the small weeds growing and then destroy them.

There are several methods of attacking weeds by cropping. For instance, Russian Thistle can be combated by grass, and fall rye is still better. The advantages of spring rye are that it grows tall, and yields as well as barley on stubble. The time to cut it is just after it heads out. Regarding Western Rye Grass and Brom, there was no difficulty in getting a catch at Scott. While the yields have not been so high, the Western Rye can be ploughed down in one ploughing, whereas the Brom Grass takes two.

Professor Hansen dealt largely with crop rotations as a method of weed control. At Saskatoon 160 acres were devoted to experimental work, and an effort was made to answer any and all questions of farmers.

Is rotation profitable or not? The first point in connection with it is moisture, and this brings up the matter of summerfallow. There are many theories, most of them foolish, about dust mulches. Thirteen experimental farms in the United States now assert that except as far as weed control is concerned, the cultivation of the summerfallow is not profitable. One reason it became popular was simply that it could be done at a time when other work was slack. Fallow substitutes, such as corn, have been found most useful and the next year's crop was just as good. Then there are roots or sunflowers, which of course means livestock.

The first consideration is moisture, then comes organic matter—root fibre and nitrogen. The organic matter is beneficial to the physical condition of the soil, and it can be best added by the growing of perennial grasses or of the legumes, which, in addition to the organic matter they provide draw nitrogen from the air and add it to the soil. In England, on a certain experimental farm, they had sown one field with clover, and the other with rye. On an adjoining field they had used a rotation, neither field receiving any fertilizer or manure whatever. On the first field the yield was 13 bushels while on the latter the yield was 27 bushels to the acre, showing that rotation is profitable and will give better yields. Another argument in favor of rotation is the utilization of the by-products of the farm. This brings in livestock. It costs much moisture to produce the straw as well as the grain, and we cannot afford to throw it away, so we must have livestock and make a return to the soil in the shape of manure.

Regarding soil drifting, the speaker left four points with his audience for consideration: That the only permanent cure is to restore the organic matter to the soil by growing grasses or legumes; that spring ploughing will not drift as much as fall ploughing; that fall rye will hold the land from drifting in the spring; and lastly that the duck foot cultivator, on land that is liable to drift, is a far safer implement than the harrow.

The Size of the Universe

Immensely of Space is Part All Human Reckoning.

How large is the universe—the space about us which contains the stars? Dr. Harlow Shapley, of the Mount Wilson Solar Observatory, has something to say on this subject which has startled his fellow astronomers. In an address at the annual meeting of the National Academy of Science held in Washington, D.C., he stated that there are reasons for thinking that the previous estimates of the size of the universe were too small. He announced that from observation and studies which he has recently made, there was reason for believing that the stars which could be reached by the modern telescope might in some cases be ten times as far away as previously supposed. He placed the diameter of the universe at something like three hundred thousand light years—that is, it would take a beam of light about three hundred thousand years to pass across it.

When it is understood that light travels at a speed of one hundred and eighty-six thousand miles a second, a slight inkling may be gained of what this means. Some conception of it may be obtained from the following reflection—If the earth is considered to represent the diameter of space, as announced by Dr. Shapley, then the diameter of the earth's orbit—out of the earth of the sun—would be represented by the diameter of an ordinary pinhead.

Economical Speed.

Every vessel has what is called her economical speed. It is the one which she can keep up daily with the greatest efficiency of the engines and least expenditure of coal. To double this speed requires four times the coal consumed. This also applies to automobiles. The economical speed is the most efficient.

A Gigantic Waterplane

Italian Airplane Builder Hopes to Make Regular Trips Across Atlantic.

On Lake Meleur in North Italy, the great Italian airplane builder, Gianni Caproni, is testing the biggest waterplane ever built. Its passenger capacity is 100 persons, and with it Signor Caproni hopes to find a type of waterplane capable of making regular trips across the Atlantic.

Nothing so big has ever been before attempted, even by Caproni, whose bombing planes were the largest used in the war. The machine has a wing span of 33 meters and weighs 24 tons. Its wings may be described as triple triplane, there being three sets of three, one behind the other, at different altitudes.

Eight motors of four hundred horsepower each are used, and the speed obtainable is estimated at 150 kilometres an hour. The crew will consist of three pilots and two mechanics, and in the cabin, which has the appearance of a large motor launch, there is seating accommodation for 100 people.

The newest thing in the construction of the giant is the placing of three sets of wings. The first test with the machine was made some days ago on Lake Meleur. No attempt was made on the water surface, the machine being lifted a few feet from the water and "taxied" in a completely satisfactory manner. If further tests prove as successful Signor Caproni intends to put in hand at once the construction of another and still larger machine of the same type, with cabin space for 300 people, with which he will attempt a transatlantic flight, probably to the United States, and will seek to inaugurate a transatlantic passenger service.

Sloan's Liniment (Pain's Enemy)

He Knew.

A countryman was standing on a fish pier where the day's catch was being landed. Presently a swordfish of monstrous size was hoisted up and the old fellow stared at it in wonder and amazement. He positively could not believe his senses, and when at last he recovered himself sufficiently to speak it was only to exclaim: "The man that caught that fish is a darn liar!"

Minard's Liniment Co., Ltd.
Gentlemen—I have used Minard's Liniment and have found it a good remedy. After the explosion I was pretty well shaken up, having used a number of liniments, but thanks to Minard's Liniment I am my old self again. It breaks the sore and bruises and gave me much relief. It is true to name as the King of Pain, for it does the job almost at once. I first noticed the effect at the Montreal Exhibition and decided to invest in a bottle, for which I am not sorry, but can say with truth that it is a good remedy for all aches and pains, and in my case much more, and a satisfied customer is the best ad. one can possibly find. That is my view of it and I think you will agree with me too.

Yours very truly,

What a Good Man He Was.

In the book he has written for private distribution in an attempt to show that Great Britain was responsible for the war, former Emperor William of Germany throughout speaks always of himself as the third person. He paints William II. as a man who tried for thirty years to maintain peace in Europe, but says he was fooled by the "perfidious machinations of Great Britain, France and Russia."

Epidemic of Dysentery

It affects many people more in winter than in summer—in the one case it is due to improper eating—in the other to congestion excited by cold. A small dose of good old Nerville's prepared a couple of times usually removes the trouble very promptly. If there is pain, relief is almost immediate. For cramps, colic, stomach pains and the like, Nerville in sweetened water is certainly a wonder, 35c at all dealers.

Wasted Energy.

A woman invariably tells a small boy to hurry back when she sends him on an errand—but what's the use?

Certain morbid conditions must exist in the stomach and intestines to encourage worms, and they will exist as long as these morbid conditions permit them to. To be rid of them and spare the child suffering, use Miller's Worm Powders. They will correct the digestive irregularities by destroying the worms, conditions favorable to worms will disappear, and the child will have no more suffering from that cause.

Farmer Finds Coal Deposit

Valuable Deposits Discovered On Farm Near Adirill, Saskatchewan.

What may prove to be valuable coal deposits have been discovered by J. F. Irvin, on his farm near Adirill, Saskatchewan. It is said that Irvin has been offered a quarter of a million dollars for his mine. The discovery was made last fall when Irvin was digging for water. He came on the seam of coal when twenty-seven feet below the surface, and, passing through a bed of quicksand. He kept the discovery secret until he had some of the coal tested. It is reported to be equal to any of the western coal for domestic purposes. Development operations will probably be commenced on an extensive scale this summer.

A Knitted Suit For Sport Wear

By Marie Belmont.

White wool is used for the fashioning of this delightful sport suit. However, its stunning effect is really attained by the introduction of black wool. This is knitted with the white to form a handsome checker-board effect on the wide turnback tuxedo collar. This striking decoration also appears on the lower parts of the sleeves and the turnback cuffs. A band of the black and white checks is knitted into the skirt, which otherwise is quite plain. A white belt is placed about the waistline. With the sport shirt of heavy white crepe a big black tie is worn.

CHILDHOOD CONSTIPATION

Constipation is one of the most common ailments of childhood and the child suffering from it cannot thrive. To keep the children well the bowels must be kept regular and the stomach sweet. To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative; are absolutely safe and never fail to relieve constipation and indigestion; burps and simple fever. Concerning them Mrs. Jules Faugereau, Nonington, Que., writes: "My baby was terribly constipated and suffered day and night, I was advised to give him Baby's Own Tablets and from the first they helped him and now at the age of thirteen months he is a big healthy, happy boy." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Six Floating Mines Still Missing.

Of the fourteen floating mines believed to have been laid off the entrance of Halifax harbor in 1913 by a German submarine, eight have been picked up or otherwise accounted for. The last mine recovered was a "live" one, found off Sambro ledges by two fishermen. An officer from H.M.S. Dockyards was notified and proceeded to Sambro, where he removed the explosives. The six mines still unaccounted for are believed to have floated to midocean or beyond.

Cheerfulness.

There is no greater every day virtue than cheerfulness. This quality in man among men is like sunshine to the day or gentle renewing moisture to parched herbs. The light of a cheerful face diffuses itself, and communicates the happy spirit that inspires it. The sourest temper must succumb in the atmosphere of continuous good humor—Carlyle.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

The regular meeting of the Women's Guild, will be held at 3 p. m. on Thursday, April 7th, at the home of Mrs. Geo. McLeod.

A Father and Son Banquet will be held in Crossfield next week, Friday, April 8th. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. W. E. Galloway R. A. Secretary of Young People's Work. Toasts will be on the list from Fathers and Sons, and some stunts also will be performed. There will be special songs to familiar tunes. John Becker, Chief Ranger of the Trail Rangers, will be Chairman.

At a meeting of the Officers and Teachers of Union Church School, held at the Parsonage on Wednesday night, Mr. W. A. Waldoek was appointed Superintendent in succession to Mr. D. A. Jeffery. Plans were considered for the filling of the two vacancies in the teaching staff caused by the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery.

The C. Y. P. Society held the last meeting for this session on Tuesday evening. The number in attendance being a record of 116, this goes to show that these meetings have proved themselves worth while. Mr. Robt. Whitfield Jnr., opened the meeting and after the Secretary had read the minutes of the preceding meeting Miss Ida Calhoun was called upon for a recitation, which was very well rendered. Mr. H. McCool also gave a good reading in fine style. The feature of the evening was the trio who styled themselves as the "Three Nations". They were very humorous and certainly kept the audience in a happy mood with their comical sayings and antics. Mr. Honeyzett dressed as an English "Dude" was representing the British Nation, Mr. McCool dressed in female attire represented "Carrie Nation", whilst J. H. Whitfield in his Negro get-up represented "Any Nation". In a little sketch depicting a Photographers Studio they kept things lively, this part ending up in a regular scream. The make-up of this trio was good and we look forward to seeing and hearing them again. Refreshments were served and a collection was taken up to defray expenses of lighting and heating. The singing of the National Anthem brought to a close one of the most enjoyable evenings the Young People's Society have experienced since the Society was formed. We shall anxiously wait for the commencement of the meetings again next fall.

There was a large congregation at Union Church last Sunday night for the Easter Service, and there were many expressions of appreciation, one remarking that it was the best service he had ever attended at the Union Church. The music was a strong feature—the Anthems by the Choir, the selections by the Orchestra (strengthened by the addition of Mr. J. S. Jose and Mr. R. Whitfield Jnr.) the duet by Mr. and Mrs. Crocker and the solo by Rev. R. K. Swenerton, all being well rendered. The Sermon of Rev. Dr. Huettner centred around the Lord's Day as a Weekly Memorial of Our Lord's Resurrection. He made a powerful appeal for the saving of modern civilization, so seriously threatened with destruction, and he pleaded for the Christian Standard of life in the activities of the people. His remarks were based upon the Fifty-Eighth Chapter of Isaiah and especially the sixth verse. "Is not this the fast I have chosen? To loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdened, and to let the oppressed go free?"

Marriage

LILLEY—LANDMYORE

A very happy wedding took place on Wednesday of last week at the home of the bride's sister Mrs. Claude Deak, when Miss Ekvira Landmyore was united in marriage to Mr. Bert Lilley. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. K. Swenerton. The groom, accompanied by his brother Charlie, entered upon the playing of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, well reproduced by that modern instrument the phonograph. The bride followed her bridesmaid Miss Alpha Halliday. The impressive ceremony completed, the company of relatives and friends together with those mentioned were seated at the wedding feast. Hand painted cards, painted by the bride and Mr. John Morrison were placed at each plate, and served as a choice souvenir of the occasion. The young couple were the recipients of many valuable and useful presents from their numerous friends. They are now living at their farm which was formerly owned by Mr. Robert Colling—five miles south-east of town. Our best wishes accompany these promising young people, with the hope that much happiness and success may attend them.
